

ATTENDANCE OFFICER SPECIALIST WORKSHOP (Schools)

Many of those doing this work in schools (and those who manage attendance and absence data or also work with parents and children) have never had any formal training in the tasks they have to carry out. Attendance law is a complex matrix with as many obligations on schools as on parents. Absences are not all the same so what can be done about them? What is the continuing role of your local authority?

The idea is that one school takes responsibility for inviting attendance officers, parenting and home-school workers etc. from their own and other local schools and organises the venue for a Workshop which I would lead. Each participating school will also receive a copy of a Groupwork pack 'Here Today: Here Again Tomorrow' for targeted work with pupils in KS2/3.

I will provide all the materials for printing and run the day. All the resources used will be sent by email after the day for distribution.

This programme relates primarily to children of compulsory school age. There is no DfE Guidance on managing attendance outside this period but there will be an opportunity at the Workshop to discuss issues relating to Reception and sixth forms.

The programme can also be adapted for those who work for a Local Authority rather than for a school. Contact me to discuss your requirements
